DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 3-7, 9-30 and 32-49 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 04/18/2006.
2. Claim 31 is not considered par of the elected species and thus is not taken under consideration for purposes of the examination.

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: 810 (figs.8C and 9), 1012 (figs.10 and 11), 1612 (fig.17), Figs. 17B and 17C (page 17/80), 1904 (fig.19), 3026a (fig. 23), 3096b (fig.36 and 37A), 3093c (fig. 37A), 3110a (figs. 55A and 57), 3140 (fig. 60), and 3141 (fig. 60), 3805 (figs. 65-69), 3803 (figs. 65-68), 3816 (figs. 66-67), 3880 (fig. 68), 3812 (Fig. 69), and possibly others. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit: 2861

5. Claims 1, 2 and 8 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 and 8 of copending Application No. 10/760,214 in view of Miller et al. (US Patent 6,068,370).

6. Below is a table of comparison between the conflicting claims that show why they are not patentably distinct from each other:

10/760,269	10/760,214
1. A removable printhead assembly for a printer which prints onto a moving web, comprising: a full width stationary printhead located on a rail along which it slides for service and removal; a number of replaceable ink reservoirs which supply the printhead with different inks; the printhead comprising a color printhead which is at least as wide as the web; and the printhead being supplied with the different inks through tubes which can be disconnected so the printhead may be removed.	1. A printhead assembly for a printer which prints onto a moving web that follows a path, comprising: a full width printhead located across the path; the printhead comprising a color printhead which is at least as wide as the web; the printhead being supplied with a number of different inks which are remote from the printhead and which supply the printhead through tubes.
2. The printhead assembly of claim 1,	2. The printhead assembly of claim 1, further comprising: a rail which is located across the path and along which the printhead slides into and out of a printing position.
	3. The printhead assembly of claim 2,

wherein: the printhead is secured to the rail by fasteners which allow the printhead to be removed when the fasteners are disengaged. 8. The printhead assembly of claim 1, further comprising: one or more rail microadjusters for accurately adjusting a gap between the printhead and the media onto which it is printing.	wherein: the printhead is secured to the rail by fasteners which allow the printhead to be removed when the fasteners are disengaged. 8. The printhead assembly of claim 1, further comprising: one or more rail microadjusters for accurately adjusting a gap between the printhead and the media onto which it is printing.

7. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the listed claims (1 and 2) together include all the structure found in claim 1 of the present invention except "a number of replaceable ink reservoirs". Miller teaches a printhead supplied by separate ink reservoirs (30 in fig.3). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to supply the printhead of the claimed invention in 10/760,214 with replaceable ink reservoirs. One would have been motivated to so modify 10/760,214 for the purpose of providing a easily accessible way to supply ink as taught by Miller et al.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.
